

Season 4 Episode 13

Bio-hazard

The following is based on a true story.

The crazy town has balloons and festivities going around everywhere. Flags of Isaac and Wayon are proudly being flown all over the town and people dress like Isaac and Wayon. Annie and Jake walk through all this and Jake said, "Why are people suddenly worshipping Isaac and Wayon?" Annie said, "Eh, this town celebrates all kinds of things just for the sake of celebrating them. The mayor probably found another obscure holiday he wants us to celebrate." Jake said, "Like he did with Christmas in July?" Annie said, "Like that." Annie and Jake are brought to the center of the town where a large ceremonial stage is set up in front of city hall and the mayor is in a special tuxedo where he goes to the microphone to make a speech. The mayor said, "Greetings all fellow inhabitants of this asylum. Today is a sad day for us but it is a wondrous day for our subjects, Isaac and Wayon. For years now, Isaac and Wayon have lived in this prison disguised as a crazy town along with all the other crazy freaks that live in this town like Annie and Jake. Isaac and Wayon are different from Annie and Jake and all the other prisoners. Isaac and Wayon have not taken part in Annie and Jake's schemes to escape the town and instead, they have taken my side. Isaac and Wayon have been very loyal to me and they have served me well. They have proven themselves to be valued members of this society." The mayor reaches for a document that he reveals to everyone watching him. The mayor continues, "This is the legal binding document that is keeping Isaac and Wayon locked up in this town. As they are no longer a threat to society and they have been successfully reformed, I with the powers vested in me and with the psychiatric officials, officially declare Isaac and Wayon, 'Cured.'" The mayor takes out a red stamper and he stamps a label on the Isaac and Wayon document in red saying, "Cured." The mayor said, "Isaac and Wayon are now free to leave this town. Give them a round of applause?" Isaac and Wayon run onto the stage and they meet up with the mayor.

The mayor gets teary eyed and he said, "This is a momentous occasion and a first for this town. This asylum town has been going on for decades and this is the first time in our long history where someone actually got cured and was deemed fit to return to society. Take this as a lesson to all of you. Any of you can get cured. It just involves getting on my good side and bending over backwards for my whims. All of you are eligible for this honor except for Annie and Jake as they are the greatest menaces to society the world will ever know. We will now honor Isaac and Wayon by feasting on a large cake and celebrating their departure." A large cake is served to all the people of crazy town. Annie and Jake are seated at a large table and Jake said, "We've always known this place to not know the meaning of fairness, but this is the worst." Annie said, "Jerks always get treatment like this. That's how they end up with high paying jobs. Isaac and Wayon are clearly slackers. It's a harsh world out there and I wonder if they can survive it."

Isaac and Wayon are walking down the streets of San Francisco. Isaac said, "Isn't it great to be free, Wayon. We can go where we want whenever we want and we don't have to put up with those fools like Annie and Jake anymore." Wayon said, "Freedom is a bird but the cost is quite absurd." Isaac said, "You're right. The mayor handled most of our funding. I wonder if I still have any funds left." Isaac and Wayon go to a bank and they find out that Isaac only has thirteen dollars left in his bank account. Isaac said, "Thirteen dollars? There's nothing you can buy for thirteen dollars nowadays." Wayon said, "Money's what we make and then we take the cake."

Isaac and Wayon go back to Isaac's house and his bedroom is covered with dust and cobwebs since it has not been cleaned out in years. Isaac goes to his closet and he said, "Remember when you used to live here before the men in black found you?" Isaac digs around through some crap and he finds a piggy bank. Isaac sees there is no cork in it so he takes a hammer and smashes it and all that is in it is a few pennies, a nickel, two dimes, a quarter, a Sacagawea, and a button with a few paper clips and some chewed up gum. Isaac said, "There's nothing in here." Wayon looks at the Sacagawea and said, "This is a dollar. We could become scholars." Isaac said, "That's a Sacagawea dollar. Those are worth less than nothing. What are we going to do to make some dough?"

Isaac and Wayon walk down more lesser known parts of the city and they come across a large building that used to be a grocery store and it has a "For Sale" sign on it. Isaac said, "An abandoned grocery store?" Wayon said, "Food is what everyone needs and it can get us some deeds." Isaac imagines owning and operating a grocery store. All kinds of people come in and buy food and it causes Isaac's bank account to grow into extreme amounts. Isaac's eyes turn into dollar signs and he said, "I have the perfect idea."

Isaac and Wayon go to an old run down bank and they have a meeting with a loan official and Isaac shows a picture of the grocery store. Isaac said, "This grocery store appears to be for sale and we want to take advantage of that. Everyone needs grocery stores and they serve as a vital part of any community. Our grocery store will sell all the necessary foods for affordable prices. We will also have a deli where we will freshly prepare meat and vegetables made to order. What do you say to this?" The loan official yawns and said, "Our bank doesn't get loan pitches like this that often. Our bank profits off interest we charge and we haven't been getting that many loans so, eh, why not?"

Isaac and Wayon set up their grocery store and they get large shipments of food and they prepare the deli and meat section. The store opens for business and customers start coming in to buy food and meat from the deli. Wayon works at slicing and chopping meat and he serves it to the customers. Store profits drastically increase in the first few weeks and Isaac and Wayon are in the basement of the store where they go through the revenue they made. Isaac said, "We made a killing. Now we would..." Isaac finds some bills that have high expenses that are larger than the amount of money they just made. Isaac said, "Why are our bills so high? I know this is San Francisco but you think the money we make would be enough to cover it." Isaac stores the papers in the office in the basement.

The next few weeks are very dull for the store. Not that many people come in and the few that do come in to use the deli. Some people order deli foods while Wayon is working at the deli counter and a rat crawls around the produce. A lady yells, "There's a rat!" An old guy runs to the counter and said, "Did she just say there is a rat?" Isaac runs to the counter and said, "No. She said there are no rats." The lady said, "What do you call this then?" She points to the rat and it crawls up on Wayon and runs on him. Everyone freaks and panics and they stream out of the store. Isaac said, "It's just a rat. How bad would it be for an exterminator?" An exterminator comes in and he said, "This location is not great for a grocery store. There are all kinds of rats and bugs that come in through this part of the city. We can still put toxic rat traps in the store." Isaac gets the exterminator bill and it also eats away at their finances. The health inspector comes in and examines the store and writes a report pinging Isaac and Wayon for some health code violations.

Newspapers come out and they have headlines that read, "Local grocery store fails health inspection." Isaac and Wayon look at the newspaper while they are working at their grocery store. Isaac said, "This is all a load of bull. Sure, we got pinged for a bunch of infractions but we didn't downright fail. It is like passing a math test with a score of 60%. That's not bad. That's what I always got."

Weeks go by and Isaac and Wayon look dull and inactive as they work their positions and no one comes into the store. Isaac and Wayon look at their bills and they put their bank balances in the negative. Isaac said, "Well, it looks like our store has failed." Wayon said, "Close our store will cost but look at what we lost." Isaac said, "You're right. This store has been nothing but a financial burden to us. That's it. Our store is over. Cleaning up this place is costly to. It would be cheaper for us to just abandon it as is. Let the expensive city take care of this."

Isaac and Wayon abandon their grocery store and after some weeks of not paying the electricity bill, the power is shut off and there are plastic milk jugs that are sitting in the powerless fridges that have already gone bad and they are starting to decay into something unthinkable. Everything in the store is rotting and turning into unrecognizable substances. They all start to emit toxic fumes that can be smelt from all over San Francisco. People all over the city start getting sick from breathing in the toxic fumes. People drive on the roads and the foul smells make them swerve around and crash into things.

Months go by and DDD News comes on a screen. George Ferrier is in the news room and said, "Hello, George Ferrier here for DDD News. There has been a foul stench that has been transcending any other smells that have been present in this city before. Businesses and companies all across San Francisco are reporting record numbers of employees taking days off due to sickness. Some businesses are not able to function due to too many employees calling in sick." George is handed some new papers and he said, "This just came in. The city's sanitation department has found the source of the foul odor. We have our news crews covering the location right now. It appears to be at an abandoned grocery store here in San Francisco. We will go live to that right now."

News crews are filming the grocery store and a news reporter wearing a heavy duty protection mask said, "We are live at the grocery store and good god does it smell. This is worse than any known odors to mankind. You can't really see if from out here but that store is filled with rotting food. The San Francisco sanitation agencies are asking for everyone to remain in their homes at all times and keep your doors and windows locked. If you don't have a home in the city, then evacuate at once. This is a serious crisis on our hands and..." The smell gets to the camera man and he falls over and smacks on the pavement and the screen goes to static.

George puts on a gas mask and he said, "Well, I will be staying in this home of mine until further notice."

People in crazy town are starting to get sick from the smell, and patrols are going around and collecting people outside. Annie and Jake are in their residence looking out the window watching the chaos of the crisis. Annie said, "This is insanity." Jake said, "When is there ever not insanity going around this town?" Annie said, "What if this is another ploy from the mayor to gain power over something more than just crazy town?" Jake said, "That could be the case."

The mayor is in his air filtered office and an agent from the Sanitation Department of San Francisco enters the office. He said, "Mayor Fidelly Widely." The mayor said, "You have any updates on this crisis?" The agent said, "We have identified the source of the problem and we have found there is only one viable cost effective way to solve this problem. We need to have manned cleaning crews enter the store and clean it out by hand." The mayor said, "That sounds deadly." The agent said, "It is deadly. Some of our cleaners went near the store and they collapsed from all the foul smells coming off the store. We have found that it is not just to send innocent citizens into that store so we thought of using some of your prisoners." The mayor said, "You want to use some of these prisoners like Annie and Jake to clean out the store?" The agent said, "That is what we have planned. Better they get killed than someone innocent, right?" The mayor said, "Right." The agent places some forms onto the mayor's desk and he said, "Just sign here so we will have permission to take any of your prisoners." The mayor grins and said, "Perfect. Just make sure you recruit Annie and Jake for this mission. They're the ones that deserve this the most."

There is a knock on the door in Annie's residence and Annie answers it. A messenger hands Annie two envelopes with one addressed to her and one addressed to Jake. They open their letters and Annie said, "I guess they are having our job orders delivered to us since they don't want us going outside." Annie and Jake's eyes light up when they see what their jobs are. Annie said, "Sanitation cleaners?" Jake said, "Mine says the same thing." Annie said, "We've never done that before. I wonder if the foul smell has anything to do with that."

The next day, Annie and Jake are loaded into a large sanitary van and they are given hazmat suits with oxygen tanks on the backs of them. They see other inhabitants of crazy town were also recruited including, TV and he still has his portable TV glued in his grasp. The commander of the cleaners said, "San Francisco is in a serious health crisis and it is our responsibility to clean it up. We are striking at the source."

The cleaning crew is brought to the grocery store where thick green fog is forming out of the store. Annie, Jake, and the cleaners slowly walk to the store and they enter an atmosphere of disease-ridden proportions that has engulfed the entire building. Jake said,

"We are in hazmat suits and this place smells worse than anything ever." The commander said, "We are to clean out everything. Take your bags and start cleaning."

Annie and Jake find shelves filled with raw meat that is covered in layers of gray goop. Annie and Jake look disgusted as they reluctantly remove the diseased meats from the shelves. They find a shelf filled with some black thin bean shaped papers that used to be cucumbers based on a sign on the shelf. Jake said, "These were cucumbers?" Jake slowly wobbles his arms and picks up the cucumbers and throws them in the bag. The commander comes and smacks Annie and Jake in the backs and he says, "We have a crisis on our hands. Work faster!" Annie said, "This place is a disease trap. We could get all kinds of sicknesses from this." The commander said, "Better you than the rest of the innocent civilians of the city." TV tries cleaning out cereal boxes and cans of food and he sees a black arm moving through a mound of dead bugs and mice.

Annie and Jake find the milk section and several of the milk jugs have exploded and are nothing but small piles of black and gray grit. Jake said, "This was milk?" Annie said, "Well, when milk is left out somewhere without refrigeration for a few months, I guess this is what would happen. This was not covered in any of my science classes." TV runs for Annie and Jake and he tugs at their arms. TV said, "There's a monster with the cereals. I saw his arm. He looks just like that thing I saw in that movie on TV last week." TV continues to tug at Annie and Jake's arms. He drags them to the cereal section and Annie said, "Where is it?" TV said, "It was here a second ago."

Annie and Jake go through the rotting produce that just looks like toxic sludge. They hear someone yell and they get dragged by something into an abyss of toxins. TV said, "You see, this is what I was warning you all about." Annie said, "There might be something living in all this." One of the cleaners accidentally gets his suit snagged on a sharp edge and it rips exposing a small part of his leg to the outside world. Annie and Jake look traumatized and petrified seeing gases enter the cleaner's suit.

Something starts to build up inside the suit and it starts pumping out of his chest. A small hideous Caucasian white monster with red beady eyes rips out of the chest and the cleaner falls to the floor possibly dead. The monster looks at Annie and Jake and it growls showing its sharp teeth. It then reaches and pulls out a top hat and a cane and it starts to dance. It sings, "Hello my baby, hello my honey, hello my ragtime gal. Send me a kiss by wire. Baby my heart's on fire. If you refuse me, honey you'll lose me and then you'll be left alone, so baby telephone and tell me I'm your one..." The monster zips away. Jake said, "Check please."

Annie and Jake attempt to clean up more food but there are large mounds of unrecognizable crap in the store. Annie said, "Now how are we going to clean this?" Jake attempts lifting it and he said, "This stuff is heavy and hard." Annie said, "It looks like more of the foods in this store formed into some new substance. This place could be a breeding ground for all kinds of new scientific formulas." Jake said, "Yeah. Only science nuts care about things like that. Where's the rest of the crew? We haven't seen our commander in some time."

Annie and Jake look around the store for the crew and the commander and they just see fog from all the rotten food but they don't find anything. Annie said, "Where is everyone?"

Jake said, "Did they abandon us here? I am starting to think this was just an excuse or a plot from the mayor to get rid of us. He already did it with Isaac and Wayon, and now us." Annie said, "Yeah, and we know how much the mayor clearly hates us." Jake said, "I think I see our crew." Jake points to a wall of cleaners and they look different. They have green balls for eyes and they have sharp demonic smiles. Jake said, "What is this?" The commander said, "There's two more of the three we haven't claimed yet." The demonic cleaners come for Annie and Jake. Jake said, "What is this?" Annie said, "It must be a parasite. It must be among the new life forms created in this heap."

TV jumps out and he uses a knife and he cuts parts of their hazmat suits and it leaves them exposed to outside air. It does nothing to them. TV suddenly gets a burst of strength and he picks one of them up and he throws the cleaner into the other cleaners knocking them down. TV grabs a small shelf filled with medicines and he throws it at the cleaners. The commander and the cleaners get up. TV grabs a shelf filled with cans and he knocks it down on them. TV said, "There is a monster here. He has made a parasite that is going to take over our minds. It already did it to the rest of the crew. We're all that's left."

Annie said, "This is over. This job is deadly and inhumane. They need to either find better qualified people for this or just demolish the place. I'm out of here. Come with me, Jake." Annie and Jake go to the front door of the store and Annie tries to open it only to find it is locked. Annie said, "The door is locked. Annie bangs on the door and she sees that the people outside the store are standing so far away that they can't hear or see Annie banging at the door." Jake said, "Maybe TV can break down the door for us." Annie said, "TV. Use your strength and break down the door." TV runs into the door and he smacks into it and it does nothing. He grabs onto canned food and other things in the store and he tries using them to break down the door but they all do nothing. TV said, "Nothing in this store works. The door is bulletproof." Jake said, "I guess with all the crime that happens in this city, it only makes sense to have a bulletproof door." Annie said, "There must be a way to contact the outside world." Annie goes behind one of the counters and she finds a phone. Annie picks it up and she said, "The phone's down. Why am I not surprised?" Jake said, "Maybe our commander has a cellphone on him." Annie said, "That sounds like a good idea."

Annie and Jake go to the commander and he is crushed under the shelf. Annie tries to see if he has any kind of phone. Annie said, "TV, lift up the shelf." TV lifts the shelf and Annie checks the commander for a cellphone and he wakes up and grabs onto Annie's arm. Annie smacks him in the face and he is still going at her. Annie yells, "HELP!!!" TV and Jake smack down the commander and he flinches a bit. TV uses a large can to smack his arm and it does nothing. TV takes a soda can and empties it and rips it up and jabs it into the commander's arm. He loses his grip on Annie and Annie runs away. More of the cleaners get up and they start going after Annie, Jake, and TV. Annie said, "There must be some way out of here." Annie spots some windows near the ceiling. Annie said, "Maybe we can escape out those windows." Annie climbs to them with Jake and TV using the shelves in the store. TV tries breaking the glass by all means and it doesn't even crack. Annie said, "All the windows in this place must be bulletproof." Annie, Jake, and TV look down and they see the cleaners coming for them and they see other mutant creatures are there too. They are all after Annie, Jake, and TV.

Annie, Jake, and TV jump from shelf to shelf and the cleaners and mutant freaks try to grab for them. The three of them jump and land behind the deli counter and they lock themselves in that section. The cleaners attempt to reach them but they can't break through the sneeze guards. Jake said, "What do we do now?" Annie said, "We could wait here until we get eaten or find some other way out of here." Annie spots a door that is completely covered in dust and filth. Annie opens it and it reveals a stairway that leads to downstairs. The three of them walk down the stairs and they find a pitch black room. Annie tries flicking a light switch and it does nothing and Annie said, "Right. There's no power. Do any of you have flashlights?" TV takes out his portable TV and turns it on and it lights up the section. They find an office that is filled with papers. Annie goes through the papers and she said, "There's infraction reports from the health inspector in here. There's also financial documents in here. These people were deep in the red. Look at this." Jake and TV look at the papers and Annie said, "The owners of this place were named, Isaac and Wayon." Jake said, "Isaac and Wayon ran this place? No wonder why it turned out the way it did." Annie said, "I knew it was a bad idea to let those creeps out in the world. They are responsible for putting us in this peril." Jake said, "Yeah. We should sue them." Annie folds up the papers and she puts them in her boot of her hazmat suit.

Annie said, "I hear something moving around down here." TV moves his TV around and he lights up a monster that is made of all kinds of dirt, debris, mold, and rotting food. He is mostly colored pink and he has a physical form that resembles a brain. The monster said, "You have come to meet your fate." Jake said, "What fate?" The monster said, "I am a new species that has been created from the scientific phenomena growing in these walls." Jake said, "Well, we all knew this was a breeding ground for new lifeforms." The monster said, "I think you met other members of my species." He shows that next to him is that creature with the top hat and the cane. The monster continues, "All you petty humans do is deprive other people of useful things. This food could have been donated to a charitable organization but instead it was left here to waste. That doesn't sound like a very ethical thing, does it?" Annie said, "You're a creature that was created in this place and you've never seen the outside world. How would you know all this?" The monster said, "I absorb all the knowledge I get from the victims that I claim. My mind has grown by far more than you know since your people have been cleaning up my house. If I add you, Annie to my mind, I may find a way to build myself some protection so I can leave these walls and go out into the world and teach all those fools a lesson."

Jake raises a fist to the monster and he said, "Annie is not yours and she never will be." The monster said, "You seem so sure of yourself." The monster extracts his sharp claws and he strikes at Jake. Jake attempts to dodge but the shield of his suit protecting his face gets cracked. Jake falls to the floor and is rendered unconscious. Annie yells, "JAKE!!!" Annie goes to protect and defend Jake while TV draws out the knife he found earlier and said, "You bring Jake to safety. I know all about these creatures from TV." TV attempts to fight the monster while Annie drags Jake up the stairs.

Annie and Jake are blocked off at the deli bar by a barricade of cleaners and monsters. The monster breaks through the wall behind Annie and Jake and he has TV in his grasp. He drops TV and he is now one of the mindless cleaners under the monster's control. The monster said, "I know what all you heroes do in these kind of predicaments thanks to your friend over here. You will be joining me." The monster breaks the barricade and Annie throws Jake over the deli and she jumps over the broken section and she breaks free of the monsters. Annie runs and lifts up Jake and they go to the part of the store that has cleaning supplies. The monster and his mutants run for them. The monster picks up those rock hard mounds from earlier and he destroys most of the shelves in the store leaving a perfect trail for him to get to Annie and Jake. Annie finds some dish soaps and bar soaps and she opens them and throws them onto the floor. Annie makes a river of dish soap and the monsters walk in it and they slip and slide around and they all tumble leaving a large mound of them piled up. The lead monster breaks through them and he raises his arms at Annie and Jake and he said, "It ends here." Annie starts rapidly throwing more disinfectants at the monster and they explode at him. The monster becomes more aggravated and he launches himself at Annie and Jake and Annie dodges and the monster smashes through the wall and he leaves the atmosphere of the grocery store. He ends up outside where he is exposed to the bright sun. He begins to burn away and he yells, "It burns!" He explodes into particles of dust and dirt.

Annie leaves the store carrying Jake. Annie meets up with one of the investigators outside and she said, "I know who did this. I have all their documents right here."

Isaac and Wayon are at Isaac's house playing a video game and the FBI barges into Isaac's house. Isaac said, "What is it this time?" The FBI chief said, "Isaac, Wayon. You are wanted for creating a bio-hazard that made the majority of San Francisco ill. You are coming with me." Isaac and Wayon get captured and arrested.

Isaac and Wayon are in court with Annie and Jake. The judge said, "It seems Isaac and Wayon are indeed guilty of creating a bio-hazard as well as causing chaos and destruction throughout the city. They are sentenced to live in an insane asylum for the foreseeable future." The judge turns to Annie and Jake and he said, "It seems that thanks to Annie and Jake's efforts, the building the grocery store was at is no longer stable and must be demolished. Annie and Jake are indeed guilty of destroying a building that was perfectly salvageable. They are sentenced to live in an insane asylum for the foreseeable future too."

Annie and Jake are back in their usual residence in crazy town and they watch Isaac and Wayon outside doing stupid stuff. Jake said, "We both did different things and yet, we both got the same outcome." Annie said, "This just another typical adventure of ours that always ends with a status quo." Jake said, "Yeah."
